

DEE GANLEY

CHANGING PEOPLE - CHANGING DOGS

Dee, from New Hampshire, USA, is coming to England again at the invitation of Shirley and Aldyth on APRIL 26th & 27th at Stockton on the Forest Village Hall. Dee has spent many years working with problem dogs in re-homing centres, and privately, and has developed a rehabilitation and training programme using only positive, reward-based methods to help these challenging dogs. She is definitely at the forefront of current thinking.

Are you concerned that your dog is difficult to live with or even aggressive? Dee offers positive solutions for these difficult dogs. She will show you how to manage and modify these behaviours whilst building a good relationship with your dog, using these positive, reward-based methods.

Also:- see the Constructional Aggression Treatment at work. This is a way of shaping your dog's way out of aggression towards other dogs or people.

This seminar/workshop will be of interest to people who own challenging dogs, run training classes, work in rescue centres where dogs are retrained before rehoming or anyone just interested in dogs and their behaviour.

For spectators and handlers with dogs the cost of the full weekend is £95.00.

A buffet lunch is included and will be provided on each day.

Private consultations are available by prior arrangement.
